The Class of 2005

An aerial photograph of Sacred Heart High School. The school building is a large, light-colored structure with multiple wings and a central tower-like section. It is surrounded by dense trees. To the left of the building is a large, open field, likely a sports field or track. The overall scene is captured from a high angle, showing the layout of the campus and its surrounding environment.

High school has been the hardest, most life altering, and probably the worst, experience of my life. To those who helped me through it; thanks. Mom and Dad: I AM always right. Rebecca: Yoshi! Courtney: r0x0rz! Tim: He's a sailor. Kerri: Handcuffs. Annie: Ouh? Paul: Viva la Nunzio! Kat: Is it dead? Sara: Your mom. Joe: Asian street pizza. Van: Coffee. Mr. Rose: Jorge. Mr. Boyles: Captain Jack (you know which one!) Mr. E.: Paula. Mr. Olson: Sour. Mrs. Hasset-Sally: Mordred. Mr. Rogers: Unctuous. And to the light of my life, Morgan: I love you. Thank you all for your support.

High school was good. I had a lot of friends and a lot of memories. Thanks to all my friends D.S., G.P., Z.K., J.N., B.L., J.G., To the underclassmen, keep on truckin' because I'm going to be building them! Thanks mom and dad for all your help. I appreciate it very much. Matt and Elise, good luck in school and do your best. And to my baby, I'll see you in the future.

Mom, thank you for everything; from helping me throughout school, to staying with me in the hospital. Dad, thank you for coaching so many of my sports teams, watching so many of my games, and always being there for me. Noelle, Dana, and Haley, stay out of trouble! I don't know what I'd do without you guys. I love you all. Jordan, I love you always and forever. To all my friends, cspccially Chelsea and Jordan, it's been an awesome four years, and without you guys it wouldn't have been the same. To the Class of 2005: We did it!

So we've reached the end of thirteen years of friendships made, broken and repaired. Thirteen years of learning now to trust. Thirteen years of forgetting my homework. I've learned so much here, not only from my teachers, but from my friends. Mom and Dad, thanks for being amazingly patient with me. KA, KW, JM, JN, AC, EG, SG - Thanks for the times . . . good and bad. Katie - you're life. And to those I'm leaving behind - KC, DK, CA, little kid number one - good luck, I'll miss you. Manda, thank you for everything. You are truly my best friend.

It seems like only yesterday we were freshmen, and now we're about to become freshmen again. Thank you mom, dad and Jason for encouraging me and guiding me through high school. To all of my wonderful teachers and classmates at MSOD, thanks for showing me how to be the person I want to become. Sarah, we've had our good times and our bad times but they have all been the best times. George, you have made an incredible impact on me and thank you for pushing me in the right direction. LR, AL, NM, MC, JM, PM, AC, AH, LJ - It's been real! I'll never forget you! To the class of 2005 - We did it! Good luck!

I'd like to say that high school was an easy ride, but as with anything in life it has had its share of challenges. In the end this won't matter for it will be the times I've shared with friends that I will always remember. I would first like to thank my family for supporting me over the past four years. To Jenn, Ashley, Liz, Kate, Taryn, Christine and Meghan - you guys are the best and I will always remember the laughs we shared. Life is but a collection of these random moments, and it is only in the end that we will begin to make sense of them.

They say that high school goes by fast, but I had no idea it was going to be this fast. I want to thank everyone that has pushed me and then those who pushed me farther than I ever thought I could go. My parents encouraged me every step of the way and taught me to be who I am. My teachers, family, and friends will always be remembered for their contributions to my life. Jess, thanks for putting up with me and enjoy your last years of high school to the fullest. I'll miss you all and I hope that our memories will live on for eternity.

Being a cross country runner I tend to look at this in such terms. I began the race as a freshman and ended it as a senior. It really is amazing how fast time moves as you grow older. First and foremost I wish to thank God for the many talents and opportunities that he has bestowed on me. We only get one chance on this earth, it’s up to us to do good with the time that is given to us. I also wish to thank my five best friends, without them I could not have survived this school. I'll never forget the memories of all my years at S.H.! Mom, Dad, Kara and Allie, thanks for the support and being by my side for all these years. I love you! Jill, we've been together for three years strong and you're still the love of my life. I love you so much. Remember all the good times we've shared together since freshman year. I'll never stop lovin' you! 1928 forever! Josh, never forget the late night and old school days of being up to no good. Ha Ha! We've been the best of buddies since the seventh grade, keep the memories alive! The big boys got the big toys! Shout outs to the class of 2005 crew... you know who you are! (JC, PM, NP, AG, CA, RC, ZS, BC, MD, MR, KO, F1, DG, MD, KQ, JN, SL, PD, JO, ES, KR, RG, JL, JH, BC, LP, TB, LV, GR, CD.) Yeah! Okay!

Celebrating '05

Leaving a mark

The Class of 2005 helped to transform Sacred Heart. Clockwise from top left: Joe Nutter and Alaina Caruso watch as Katie Bowie celebrates the last day for seniors; Chantelle D'Angelo and Clementine George enjoy a quiet moment; Zak Swain and Josh Callahan hang out; the Class of 2005; a car in the parking lot says it all; Robert Lynch, Jason Gray, Carissa Santos, Dan Shaw, Joe Nutter, Zack Keohan and Greg Plant join together on the last day of classes; Paul McPhee prepares to send a frisbee soaring.

Activities

Freshman Orientation

For many freshmen, the first day of high school can be a daunting experience. Sacred Heart tries to facilitate that transition through a freshman orientation program. Freshman orientation took place on August 30, the day before regular classes began, and was staffed by junior and senior Peer Ministers, as well as members of the faculty. Groups of freshmen rotated through various stations, each related to a specific part of the school. The popular straw tower competition provided a powerful bonding experience, as well as the senior-freshman ice cream social.

Alex Price and Steven Pelletier express pride in their straw tower, despite its collapse.

Students scrutinize the many offerings during the activities fair.

Senior Rafting Trip

This past year's annual senior event was special by any standard. In September, the Class of 2005 traveled to the Moxie Outdoor Adventures Campground, along the Kennebec River in The Forks, Maine. The group spent an evening around a campfire toasting s'mores before setting out the next morning on a 10-mile white water rafting adventure. The trip wasn't all work, however. There was plenty of free time for swimming and hanging out. Accompanied by staff and faculty members, the white water rafting trip was a great bonding experience for the Class of 2005.

Clockwise from upper left: Katie Bowie, Molly Aubert, Liz Judge, Ashley Hall, Jordan Skelly, Mr. Douglas Trudeau, Chelsea Beasley and Sarah DeGroat prepare to push off; Christine Doren, Jennifer Youngquist, Melissa Caron, Ashley Briggs, Kate Keenan, Mrs. Karen Horan, Taryn Scampoli and Barry Smith

survey the campground; Liz Closter, Katherine Theiss, Kathleen Seymour, Lauren Opachinski, Bridget Kelley, Michelle Ritucci and Victoria Goodson join a pair of rafting guides; Mr. Christopher Connelly and Joseph Nutter ready their oars; Sarah DeGroat and Ashley Hall practice their floating.

Homecoming

Homecoming 2004 was replete with the traditional trappings of the annual event. Face painting, posters and ribbons were regular sights around the Sacred Heart campus in the days leading up to the big weekend. That excitement culminated with an activities day of outdoor events, and a rally to introduce team members. This year also marked the beginning of a new tradition: Cabby Shack Spirit Night. Nearly 100 students, parents, alumni and faculty members gathered at the popular Plymouth restaurant to reminisce and to celebrate the spirit of Sacred Heart.

Everyone turns out for spirit day.

Sisters Madeline and Chelsea Beasley share their first homecoming together.

Halloween

High school students may be too old for trick or treating, but that didn't stop many of them from roaming the halls of Sacred Heart in October. Students and more than a few faculty members got into the spirit of things by donning a wide variety of costumes. In addition to the usual assortment of ghosts, goblins and monsters, there were several especially creative efforts. Among the more popular combinations was a complete Happy Meal assortment and a frighteningly realistic portrayal of the Village People. Who says Halloween isn't scary any more?

Class trips

Learning goes on both inside and outside the walls at Sacred Heart. This past year, students visited places both near and far. One English class stopped by Thoreau's old home and took a walk around Walden Pond, while the Oceanography class headed to Plymouth. In December, intermediate school students traveled to the Museum of Science in Boston. After turning the calendar to 2005, high school students were off to Italy and France on school trips, while the debate team and Heart Beat staff went on separate trips to Columbia University for conferences.

Clockwise from upper left: Greg and Dan Carlson hoist Paul McPhee during the Heart Beat trip to New York; students pose in front of the Arc de Triomphe in France; the staff of the Heart Beat in New York;

intermediate school students enjoy a trip to the Omni Theatre in Boston; William Greaney, John Yetman, Rob Cassidy and Andrew Condon patrol Plymouth Beach; Italy-bound students meet in the library.

Drama

The theatre department at Sacred Heart offered up two impressive shows this past year, with the intermediate school bringing the comedy "Greater Tuna" to the stage, and the upper school performing the hilarious "Moby Dick: The Musical". The latter production involved a group of students at a Catholic school attempting to raise desperately needed funds through the performance of an outlandish musical based on Herman Melville's famous seagoing tale.

Clockwise from upper left: The cast of Greater Tuna assembles on stage for a photograph; the upper school cast of Moby Dick: The Musical takes a bow after a performance. Alex Price and Jordan Skelly enjoy a dance during Moby Dick; Eric Meier keeps the beat going during Moby Dick; Megan Balboni sings a solo during Moby Dick; Emily Fink and Carl Olson rehearse a scene from Greater Tuna.

Snowflake Semi-Formal

The Radisson Hotel was the site of the 2004 Snowflake Semi-Formal. Supported, organized and executed by members of the National Honor Society, this past year's semi-formal attracted a wide swath of students from every grade level. Students danced the night away, listening to bands as varied as Flock of Seagulls to Green Day.

Clockwise from upper left: Molly Aubert and Jordan Scampoli smile for the camera; Josh Callahan, Kim Reske, Jill Skrzyniarz, Ryan Stoen and Genevieve Rein enjoy their evening; Erin Gilmour, Liz Judge, Tory Belliveau, Christine Doren, Lindsay Vickery and Julie Hyland act shy; Ashley Briggs, Ms. Meredith Costa and Taryn Scampoli take a break from dancing; Ashley Briggs, Lauren Opachinski, Melissa Caron, Jennifer Youngquist, Kate Keenan and Christine Doren pause for a smile; a camera shy trio including Jordan Skelly, Chelsea Beasley and Ashley Hall.

Christmas Show

Sacred Heart pulled out all the stops for its Christmas show this past year, with Pizzazz as well as choral groups from the intermediate and upper schools lending their voices and dancing feet to the celebration. The 2004 show also featured a performance of scenes from "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and an animated and humorous rendition of "Barrington Bunny", provided courtesy of members of the drama club.

Clockwise from upper left: Pizzazz offers a flashy, memorable performance; Joseph Nutter, Mr. Douglas Trudeau, Allen Williams and Kelsey Hughes perform a selection from "Amahl and the Night Visitors"; male members of the upper school chorus offer deeper tones; Megan Balboni performs a solo; members of the drama club prepare to bow after an amusing performance of "Barrington Bunny"; choral director Ms. Gwynne Sousa is flanked by a handful of her many outstanding singers.

Annual Art Show

Sacred Heart's 22nd Annual Art Show took over the lower gymnasium in April, featuring many of the school's most talented artists. Students worked in a variety of mediums, including oil, watercolors and acrylics, as well as with sculpture and photography. Students and teachers voted for their favorites, and many of the works were captured in the annual publication, Overtone. Some of the works went on to the Boston Globe Art show, where several students took honors.

Clockwise from upper left: Among the artwork featured during this year's Annual Art Show were pieces by Michelle Nutter, Erin Gilmour, Katherine Keenan, Dylan Gallagher, and Jennifer Youngquist.

Variety Show

Talent takes many forms. Anyone doubting this statement need only stop by Sacred Heart's annual variety show to get a true taste of diverse skills. Everything from singing and dancing to music, magic and martial arts took to the stage this past year, as students shared their abilities as well as a few laughs. The ever-present bags helped keep the audience focused on this year's theme: Arcade. Built around a video game conceit, the show was performed during the day for students and during the evening for parents and members of the community.

Clockwise from upper left: Kevin Moniz and Justin Iacovino offer an acoustic performance; Michael Daly and Time Sweeney bring down the house with their rendition of "Milk and Cereal"; Jerome

O'Sullivan, Michael Zembruski and Jake Stanton rock the house; members of the dance club prepare to perform; Alex Price plays rock star; Courtney and Kaitlyn Abdou perform a duet.

SADD

When SADD expanded its mission from Students Against Drunk Driving to Students Against Destructive Decisions, it opened up a wide new range of areas where the group could focus its efforts. This past year, SADD organized a series of campaigns to bring awareness to various dangerous behaviors. This included Red Ribbon

Week, which encouraged students to live drug-free lives. The group also sponsored "Butt-Out" day, during which participating students wore special headgear to highlight the need to stamp out cigarette use, as well as a gift-wrapping fundraiser. SADD also brought Holmes, the one-man volleyball team to campus to raise awareness.

Peer Ministry

In the certificates they receive at the end of the year, Peer Ministers are reminded of Einstein's words: "Only a life lived for others is worth living." But in truth they have been living that credo all along. From the Welcome Workshop in August to Freshman Orientation to open houses, school Masses, food drives, peer tutoring and mentoring programs, Peer Ministers are prime agents of leadership and care within Sacred Heart and in outreach to others in need. Wherever the need arises, Peer Ministers respond.

Prom: A Night

For some, it is the culmination of every school dance ever spent sipping soda and standing on the sidelines. For others, it is a night to shine. This past year's prom was held at Ballymead in Falmouth. Students put on their

Speech and Debate

Sacred Heart's award-winning speech and debate teams criss-crossed the country during the 2004-2005 school year, adding a host of new honors to its catalogue of victories. Students visited competitions throughout the United States, but perhaps the most memorable trip was to Columbia University, where the team had to hunker down for an additional two days after a blizzard blanketed New York City. Qualifying team members finished up their busy year with a trip to the national speech and debate competition in June.

Spring Chorus Show

It's always nice to greet spring with a song, and many Sacred Heart students did just that this past spring when Ms. Gwynne Sousa and her students performed a variety of songs as part of their annual concert. It was a morning filled with dulcet tones and a dulcimer, and the performances left students with a definite spring in their step.

Clockwise from top: the upper school chorus fills the stage and auditorium with sounds of joy; members of Pizzazz opened the spring show with a bang; members of the intermediate school chorus lent their voices to the performance.

Intermediate School Field Day

The annual intermediate school field day received a boost this year in the form of a new treasure hunt activity for eighth grade students and a day of beach volleyball for the seventh grade. Of course, the traditional eighth grade softball competition remained intact, and seventh graders showed off their school pride by wearing "Hawaiian Aloha" t-shirts, which they had designed earlier in the year. The day was rounded out with a bar-b-que and a surprise visit by an ice cream truck.

Nicole and Mike

Stephen Kessinger

Stephen,

Congratulations! We are so proud of the fine person you have become.

Good luck and God bless.

We love you very much.
Mom, Dad and Victoria

Jacob Luszc

Dear Jake,

You have been a joy from the day you were born.
You have grown to be a fine young man, we are so proud of you!

Soar, fly, laugh, dance, taste, explore, cry, love, try, test, think, jump, run, walk, sing, play, and dare to dream.

If you are going to doubt anything, doubt your limits.

With love and hugs,
Mom, Dad and Noah

Alaina Caruso

Alaina,

What a wonderful gift you are! From the first moment we laid eyes on you, we knew that our lives would be filled with great joy and love. You have a strong sense of right and wrong. Don't ever lose that! You have faced some difficult times but have come through like a shining star. May all your wishes come true. Remember, we are always here for you.

Love you lots,
Mom, Dad and Joe

Michael Cleary

"...do you remember the times of your life?"
P. Anka

Dear Michael,

You were "special" from the day you were born and always will be for us. You've always made us so proud of everything you do. We wish you happiness at college and if you should get lost... "we'll just pull in somewheres and ask directions!" - Capt. Ron

Love,
Mom, Dad and Lemon

Taryn Scampoli

From playing "dress up" just because, to playing dress up for the prom, you are and have always been a beauty queen. I've tried to protect you from the world, but now it's time to shine. Remember, I'm always here for you.

Love,
Jordan

It seems like only yesterday you were starting at Hobomock and I was watching out for my little sister; now you're heading off to college. I'm so proud of you, and will always be watching out for you!

Love,
Christian

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct your path."

You have brought us such joy, love and laughter. Have fun in college, and don't change the beautiful, principled and compassionate person you are! I'll love you forever, I'll like you for always, as long as I'm living, my baby you'll be!

We love you!
Mom and Dad

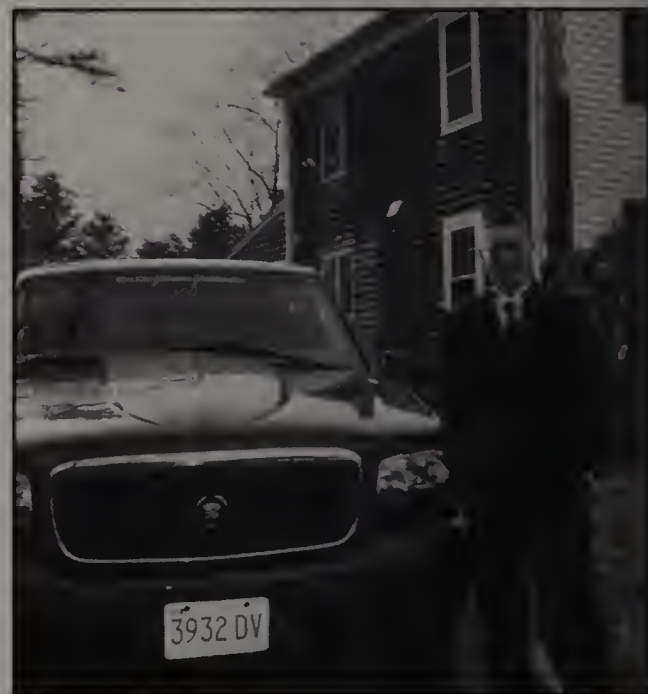

Ryan Costello

Ryan,

Congratulations. You have accomplished so much. I am proud to call you my brother. I wish you nothing but success in your future. Know I am always a phone call away.

Love always,
Alison

Ryan,

Wow, did time go by fast, or what? You have done it! You graduated, and you have done it in great fashion. You have made us all so very proud, none more so than your father. I wish you the best of luck in all your future endeavors. From the day you were born you were destined for great things. I'm just glad I'm here to watch it and help it unfold.

Love,
Dad

Dylan Gallagher

Dylan,

May your heart always be joyful
May your song always be sung
And may you stay forever young.
May you grow up to be righteous
May you grow up to be true
May you always know the truth and see the light surrounding you.
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung
And may you stay forever young.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Lydia

Michael Wirzburger

Michael,

Remember always to do what is right and be proud of your ambitions and accomplishments. You have made us so very proud.

Love,
Mom and Dad

On the day that you were born, the angels got together and decided to create a dream come true. So, they sprinkled moon dust
in your hair, with gold and starlight in your eyes of blue

Kimi,

You are a giving, loving and caring person. We will always be here for you.
We are very proud of you and love you with all our hearts.

sisters

Dear Molly,

May your dreams stay as large as the towers of the Atlantis.
May your spirit shine as bright as the bonfires at Humarock Beach.

May you take on life's challenges as you do the black diamond slopes at Sunday River.

May your smile always glisten like the beaches of Aruba.
And may you always remember how much we love you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Elizabeth Judge

Dear Elizabeth,

JesseLee Loomis

My little Jessabel,

Looks like we made it!! We have shared so much...fun, laughter and secrets (like the doll in this picture). Just remember I love you and we will always be best buds!!

Love,
Mom

Jess,

My pal, my buddy, all this time I was really leaning on you!!!!....For your wit, your humor, your smile...that gleam in your eyes; someday we will sail away and live on "sailboat stew."

I love you!!!
Dad

JesseLee,

18 years ago, Mom and Dad brought you home from the hospital and I asked them to bring you back to the store. It was then that they gave me the best sister anyone could ask for. Thank you for always being there for me, and for bringing laughter into my life. This is the beginning of the rest of your life. Like I've always told you - don't ever change!

I will love you forever and wish you enough!!

Kathleen Seymour

Dearest Kathleen,

Never in my wildest dreams did I think I'd have a daughter as wonderful as you! You are every parents' wish--as lovely on the inside as you are on the outside.

I am so very proud of you, not just for your many accomplishments, but for who you are.

God Bless!

Love always,
Mom

Dear Kathleen,

You have accomplished so many things these past four years. Your academic success as well as your charitable contributions have made us very proud of you. We love you, Kathleen, and wish you a bright and successful future.

Love,

Aunt JoAnne,
Uncle Dave,
Gregory
and Caroline

Kathleen,

Congratulations! Welcome to the beginning of the road. You have achieved wonderful results so far and have put forth an admirable effort. Your grace, poise, talent and beauty speak in a louder voice than any song you might offer.

You will continue to rise when challenged. Have no fear and suffer no limits. We love you!!

Uncle Steve, Aunt Jeanne,

Christine,
You can rest-assured that the moment you leave for college, I will be moving all of my stuff into your old room and moving yours out. Good luck in college.

Michael

Jason Gray

May the road rise to meet you,
May the wind be ever at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
Know that we shall love you, always, and let this knowledge light your way forever.

Brighid Callahan

Brighid,
You have always reached for the best in everything you did.
From your school work to your activities, from your friends to all the people you have chosen to be in your life:

Here's to good women
May we know them
May we be them
May we raise them.

I am so proud of you. I will miss you so much,
and I'll love you forever.

Love,
Mom

Brighid,

These days especially, your mind may be filled with incredible stuff about moving on, beginning a new chapter in your life. Ursula LeGuin says, "It is good to have an end to journey toward, but it is the journey that matters in the end." Never stop journeying, seeking out, being alive to each new possibility. I love you.

Trying to stay in the journey,
Dad

Graduation

Seniors participated in a number of special activities in the days leading up to graduation. Following their last day of classes, the Class of 2005 seemed to be spending even more time at Sacred Heart than when they were students. Between the traditional senior-parent dinner dance

Joe Nutter is entrusted with the care of the class mascot, Spongebob.

Michael Cleary and Sean Doherty enjoy a laugh during the slide show presentation.

Graduation

on Week

in the lower gymnasium, senior awards, Baccalaureate, senior superlatives and numerous graduation rehearsals, seniors were very busy, despite the fact that they were done with their academic classes. Here we have collected a few of the moments from that exciting week.

The Class of 2005 turned out in force for the annual Senior Superlatives.

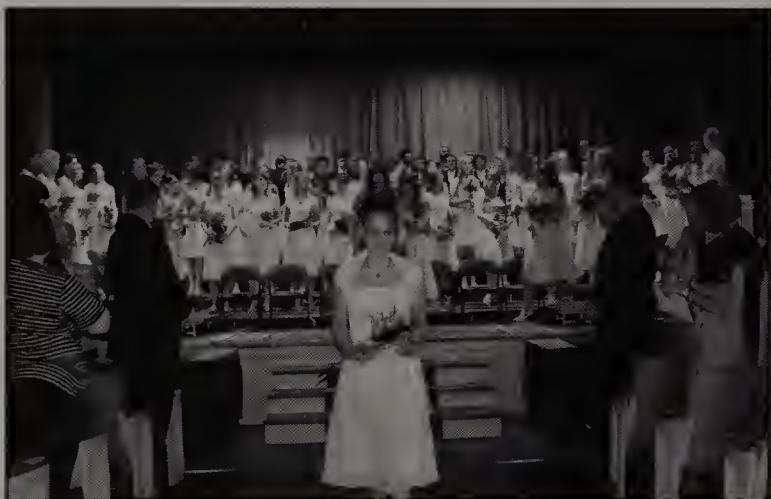

Juniors prepare to present a cake to the senior class near the end of the senior awards.

There were tears of joy and smiles galore as students watched the annual slide show, which pairs baby photographs with senior portraits taken by Mrs. Evelyn Dunbar.

Graduation

Commencement

After weeks of inclement weather, the sun finally broke through the clouds on May 28, 2005 as the Class of 2005 celebrated commencement. It was a time for tuxes and pink dresses as Sacred Heart bid farewell to the seniors, many of whom Victoria Goodson and Katie McGovern share tears and laughter during the graduation ceremony.

Dressed in tuxes, a group of boys files into the school for commencement.

Liz Judge, Jordan Skelly, Tory Belliveau and Kate Keenan pause to pose in the minutes leading up to graduation.

The Class of 2005 begins to file out of the auditorium.

Graduation

ment 2005

had called Sacred Heart home for their entire academic careers thus far. In a ceremony filled with references to the past, students were encouraged to keep their sites set on the future, but to also remember to enjoy the present.

From top to bottom:

Dylan Gallagher and Nick Pronk take in a game of hackey sack while waiting to march into the auditorium.

The Keohan family smiles for a photograph with their graduate, Zach.

"You are part of the tapestry of Sacred Heart."

Gotcha!

The final word

Sometimes there comes a photograph for which no caption could ever do justice. We therefore invite you to put your own words to these unique memories from the past year.

Gotcha!
